

RD-5 — Sanctions Compliance Policy

Mintware · Bridge/Stripe Stablecoin-Issuing Card Program

~90% real content — same two blanks as RD-4, flagged below in red.

1. Reliance on Bridge/Stripe sanctions-screening infrastructure

Per Bridge/Stripe's confirmation (2026-09), sanctions screening for this program is performed using Bridge/Stripe's own infrastructure, including screening against the standard sanctions lists applicable to the program (US OFAC SDN list, UN Security Council sanctions lists, UK HM Treasury sanctions list, and relevant local lists), at onboarding and on an ongoing basis as those lists are updated. Mintware relies on this screening rather than operating an independent, parallel sanctions-list-matching system. Mintware does not support or conduct transactions involving sanctioned countries or persons (Iran, Syria, Cuba, North Korea, or the Crimea, Donetsk, or Luhansk regions, or any other jurisdiction subject to comprehensive US sanctions).

2. Risk tolerance for sanctions-tainted digital assets

Mintware's program operates exclusively in USDC — a centrally-issued, well-established dollar stablecoin, not a privacy-focused or anonymity-enhanced asset. Mintware's risk tolerance for sanctions-tainted coins or tokens is zero: any wallet, transaction, or counterparty identified as sanctions-tainted, whether via Bridge/Stripe's screening or Mintware's own review, is not permitted to transact within the program, and any such instance is escalated immediately.

3. Escalation and internal point of contact

[MLRO NAME] serves as Mintware's internal point of contact for sanctions-compliance matters relating to this program, responsible for coordinating with Bridge/Stripe/Lead Bank on any flagged wallet, customer, or transaction, and for maintaining this policy document. Mintware commits to annual sanctions-compliance training for all personnel with access to customer onboarding, card issuance, or compliance escalation functions.

4. Governance approval

This policy is approved by Mintware's governing body (founders acting as the company's board).
